Michael & April

September 22, 2012 | Spicewood

April and Michael wanted their wedding to have a classic feel, so they used touches of antique lace to add contrast to the rough-hewn edges of their Cypress Club venue, located on the shores of Lake Travis. The wedding had a traditional vibe, but it was fun and musical. The bride's uncle performed a song dedicated to the happy couple, and the groom's band and a DJ were on hand to play at the reception (the groom even jumped behind the drums for one song). This was truly a robust celebration.
